Administrative/Biographical History:

John Struthers (1823-1899) was born in Dunfermline, the second of three brothers, all of whom entered the medical profession. He took up surgery and was appointed to the Royal Infirmary following graduation. After a few years he abandoned surgery in favour of anatomy and was in time appointed Professor of Anatomy at Aberdeen. He held this post for 26 years, during which time he reorganised the whole teaching of anatomy and created an excellent museum of anatomy. After retiring from his Chair in Aberdeen he returned to Edinburgh where he devoted his energies to the Royal College of Surgeons.

He was President from 1895 to 1897 and was knighted in 1898. In 1899 the Struthers Lecture was inaugurated and was given every third year until 1974. His son, John William Struthers M.D., LL.D. FRCSEd was President of the College from 1941-1943

CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING STRUTHERS' APPLICATION FOR THE CHAIR OF ANATOMY, ABERDEEN: ADVICE FROM SUPPORTERS, ASSESSEMENTS OF POLITICAL INFLUENCE AND APPROACHES TO MPs

GD4/18

1862, December 8th

Copy letter from John Struthers to Dr. Kilgour enquiring into the circumstances surrounding the rumoured impending vacancy in the Anatomy Department of Aberdeen University and expressing interest in the post.

GD4/19

1862, December 11th

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour, concerning the likelihood of the resignation of Professor Lizars and the possible candidates for the Chair of Anatomy. He laments the large falling off of students at the medical school, which he feels is attributable to the more limited number of appointments.

GD4/20

1863, January 24th

Letter to John Struthers from J.D. Wilson, informing him of the University of Aberdeen's decision to make Professor Lizars retire, due to his dipsomania, and that he is "injuring all the medical classes very much," due to his "inattention and more particularly to his neglect." He also raises the question of possible candidates for the Chair of Anatomy once Lizars retires. The notion of Struthers applying has been very well received. [2 sheets]

GD4/21

1863, June 2nd

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour passing on the unofficial intimation that Lizars is going to ask to be allowed to retire from the Aberdeen Chair of Anatomy and that the new appointment rests with the Crown.

GD4/22

1863, June 5th

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour offering to pass on information about the imminent vacancy of the Chair of Anatomy when the Privy Council has approved Lizars' retirement. He gives advice, comments on the possibility of Redfern's standing and expresses the belief that a London candidate would receive local Aberdonian support against an Edinburgh man because of "a strong feeling against Edinburgh and the use it makes through its Lord Advocate of the provinces". [2 sheets]

GD4/23

1863, June 11th

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour informing him that Lizars' resignation is now a matter of common talk and discussing likely sources of support and opposition. [2 sheets]

GD4/24

1863, June 11th

Letter to Dr. Handyside from D. McRobbie regarding the imminent resignation of Professor Lizars from the Chair of Anatomy in the University of Aberdeen and the possibility of John Struthers as a candidate for the chair.

GD4/25

1863, June 18th

Letter to Dr. Handyside from Alexander Lizars regarding the University Court's approval of his decision to retire, since he feels he can no longer "attend to his duties without suffering and danger," due to ill health.

GD4/26

1863, June 12th

Letter to unnamed person from David Kerr regarding the candidature for the Chair of Anatomy in Aberdeen University. He advises Struthers should "consider well before he leaves Edinburgh for this city, for matters are different now from what they were".

GD4/27

1863, July 16th

Letter to John Struthers from Edward Harrison informing him that the Aberdeen University Council is expected to meet at the end of the next month when the University Court's report in favour of the retirement of Dr. Lizars from the Professorship of Anatomy would be submitted to Her Majesty for approval.

GD4/28

1863, August 7th

Letter to John Struthers from Edward Harrison notifying him of the approval of Her Majesty on July 27th of the retirement of Dr. Lizars.

GD4/29

1863, June 16th

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour about other possible candidates for Liars' Chair, exhorting him to "Get up your certificates as strong as you can, it is humbug, but the order of the day and now necessary".

GD4/30

[N.D.]

Note to John Struthers from Dr. Norman Keith, suggesting Redfern will apply for an Aberdeen appointment, since he hates Belfast.

GD4/31

1863, June 22nd

Letter from John Struthers to A.L. Kilgour regarding the improbability of the town, council or other public bodies intervening.

GD4/32

1863, June 24th

Letter from William Hodgson to John Struthers suggesting that Dr. Kilgour, the chief medical man in Aberdeen, might be reached through his sister-in-law Mrs Smyth.

GD4/33

1863, July 2nd

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour informing him that Beveridge has the support of Sykes (M.P.) and the county M.P., which he values little, and that the Glasgow candidate is the favourite of Pirrie and Macrobin.

GD4/34

1863, July 9th

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour passing on the news from Pirrie that he had a note from Redfern who said he did not intend to put himself forward as a candidate.

GD4/35

1863, July 16th

Draft letter from John Struthers to Professor Pirrie respecting the Chair of Anatomy and enquiring confidentially as to the extent of support for the local candidate.

GD4/36

1863, July 18th

Copy letter from John Struthers to Professor Pirrie thanking him for his complimentary reply to Struthers' enquiries respecting the vacant Chair of Anatomy at Aberdeen University.

GD4/37

[N.D.]

John Struthers' copy letter from Dr. Handyside to Professor Mc Robin [sic] respecting Struthers' candidature for the Anatomical Chair, Aberdeen.

GD4/38

[N.D.]

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour respecting Redfern's apparent decision not to apply for the chair, Beveridge's campaign, an estimate of local influence and an appraisal of Beveridge's high intelligence and inability to produce testimonials as to his fitness for the professorship. [2 sheets]

GD4/39

1863, July 31st

Letter to John Struthers from A.L. Kilgour respecting his having written to Sir James Clark for support, Struthers' note to Carr, Beveridge's having secured the parliamentary interest and further speculation about Redfern's candidature.

GD4/40

1863, June 18th

Letter to John Struthers from A. Dewar respecting the Beveridge testimonials and possible political influences in the election.

GD4/41

1863, July 27th

Letter to John Struthers from A. Dewar in which the writer expresses the opinion that despite the exertions of MPs, Sir George Grey is unlikely to allow any political motive to influence him. However he advises that if Struthers knows any influential Liberal in Stirling, he should be spoken with.

GD4/42

1863, July 28th

Letter to John Struthers from James Caird M.P. stating that he had interested himself in the case of another candidate for the Chair of Anatomy.

GD4/43

1863, June 24th

Letter to John Struthers from W.H. Sykes M.P. in reply to Struthers' request for support for his application for the vacant Chair of Anatomy, stating that he has "already transmitted to Sir George Grey the application of a gentleman resident in Aberdeen".

GD4/44

1863, July 16th

Letter to A. Black M.P. from David Craigie of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh soliciting his offices on Dr. Struthers' behalf and asking him to speak to Sir George Grey in favour of Struthers as the other candidate has local support but lacks substantial professional reputation.

GD4/45

1863, July 18th

Copy letters from John Struthers to Col. Sykes, M.P. for Aberdeen requesting him to read the testimonials despite his having already transmitted the name of another candidate to Sir George Grey, and to William Leslie M.P. for Aberdeen submitting the testimonials.

GD4/46

1863, June 28th

Copy of a letter sent from John Struthers to William Leslie M.P. and Colonel Sykes M.P., sending them a list of the courses of his anatomical lectures and published contributions requesting their favourable recommendations for the Chair which is within the gift of the Crown.

GD4/47

1863, August 3rd

Copy letter from John Struthers [to a Member of Parliament – Mr Aytoun or Caird?] expressing his belief that several Northern M.P.s have been solicited to use their influence for another candidate and requesting that he favour his own copy of testimonials with his attention.

GD4/48

1863, August 5th

Letter to John Struthers from R Sinclair Aytoun M.P. stating that he had not been applied to in connection with the vacant Aberdeen professorship and that he has no connection or influence in that part of the country.

GD4/49

1863, July 13th

Draft letter from Christina Struthers enclosing testimonials naming and describing the circumstances of the other candidates for the Aberdeen Chair of Anatomy, stating her husband's alleged superior claims, his liberal politics and term as secretary of Lord Brougham's Committee in the contest against the Duke of Buccleugh for the chancellorship, and asking the recipient to interest himself in Struthers' cause.

GD4/50

1863, June 27th

Copy letter from John Struthers to the Rev. John Struthers requesting him to persuade Lord Brougham to speak in his favour to the Home Secretary, Sir George Grey, and Lord Advocate Moncrieff in his application for a Crown Chair at Aberdeen.

GD4/51

1863, June 27th

Letter to Dr. John Struthers from the Rev. John Struthers offering his assistance with the application for the Aberdeen professorship and advice respecting the approach to Lord Brougham, and suggesting that he may try to enlist the support of his county M.P., Lord Elcho.
